Henry Meredith, colored, will be placed on trial charged with the murder of P. L. Sweeney, a soldier. Sweeney, it will be remembered, was killed after having been chased several blocks by a number of negroes. The cases of C. T. Love, R. K. Love and J. T. McJunkin charged with the larceny of four automobiles will also be called. The men are charged with stealing automobiles and changing their parts about so that the owner could not recognize them. J. For the past three or four days, fifteen colored girls dressed in regulation uniforms of black dresses with white collars and cuffs have been in charge of various tables in the hotel dining room. The head waiter says they are giving satisfaction and that he expects when the next draft call is made it will be necessary for the management to use colored girls entirely.

STRENGTH OF LIBERTY BONDS WAS FEATURE

New York, Sept. 11.—The strength of liberty bonds was the chief feature of the early trading on the stock exchange today. In the first half hour the second 4s rose slightly over 3/4 per cent, to 28, the second convertible 4 1/2s making a similar gain to the same level, while the third 4 1/2s rose 1 1/2 to 27 1/2. Liberty 3 1/2s, formerly the strongest feature of that group, reacted about 1-3 of 1 per cent, to 101.

Supporting orders were forthcoming in the dull but firm stock market, leaders adding substantial fractions to a point to yesterday's belated rally. Some of the equipment and shipping also displayed marked strength.

Stocks recently under the influence of pools recovered extreme losses of 2 to 4 points in the active selling of the final hour, investments yielding 1 to 2 points. The close was weak.

"GOD FORGIVE THE HUNS, FOR I CAN'T"

SHOUTED SOLDIER AS HE LEFT DOOMED SHIP.

Two Atlanta Men Aboard Troop Ship—Murderous Craft Blown to Pieces.

(By Dell Edwards, L. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

At An American Rest Camp in England, Sept. 11.—(2:25 p. m.)—A British troop ship, with 2,902 American soldiers, 70 of them officers, on board, was sunk by a German submarine off the English coast Saturday afternoon. All of the Americans were saved.

The murderous craft came to its own doom in the attack, for four destroyers pounced upon it and dropped depth charges which are believed to have blown it to pieces.

As one of the depth charges went off debris and human bodies were hurled upward, making certain that the least of the seas had been destroyed.

One survivor from the submarine was reported to have been made a prisoner.

Oil and debris were afterwards seen smeared on the surface of the water.

Stokers Reported Killed.

Twenty stokers were reported to have been killed by the explosion of the torpedo. This is not confirmed.

Two torpedoes were fired at the ship, but the first one missed.

The transport was in the center of the convoy before the attack, but dropped to the rear.

The American soldiers showed the greatest coolness throughout. As the warning was sounded they responded nobly to their drill and filed to the boats in excellent order.

One soldier, who thought that the ship was doomed beneath his feet, jumped into the water, meanwhile shouting to his companions:

"God forgive the Huns, for I can't."

Among the survivors landed and brought here, was Edward Fern, of Chicago.

"When the blast came all the men rushed towards the life boats as they had been trained to do," said Fern.

Everybody Kept Cool.

"The force of the explosion was so great that men were thrown back from the rails, but everybody kept cool. They worked mighty fast, though."

Another Chicago man, George M. Weiner, a naval guard, was on the upper deck and sighted the U-boat. The signal was quickly given as the submarine came upon the port side of the transport.

At once British destroyers rushed up at terrific speed, encircling the submarine, and dropping a barrage of depth charges.

Americans who landed near here were quickly brought to this camp.

Most of them lacked clothing but were immediately fitted out by the generous-hearted English.

W. M. Jeffries and Charles Bass, both of Atlanta, Ga., who were on the ship, said that it was behind the rest of the convoys when the attack was made.

FAILURE CONFERENCE UNSETTLED COTTON

New York, Sept. 11.—The failure of yesterday's conference between southern congressmen and the head of the war industries board to bring forth a more definite statement as to the price fixing or stabilizing proposition seemed to have an unsettling effect on the cotton market during today's early trading. The opening was barely steady at a decline of 3/4 to 47 points and active months sold 40 to 70 points net lower before the end of the first hour, with October touching 34.40c and January 33.40c under liquidation and scattered pressure. A report that a southern authority estimated the condition of the crop a 56.5 against the government end-August report of 55.7 was also a factor on the decline.

The market steadied on bullish spot advice and covering toward the end of the first hour and advanced sharply on the bullish weekly report of the weather bureau. October contracts sold up from 34.40 to 34.85c and January from 33.40 to 34.90c, or back to within 15 or 16 points of last night's closing figures.

Trading then became quiet, with daily fluctuations irregular, probably the result of evening-up commitments for over the holidays tomorrow.

NAVY CALLING ON ITS RESERVE FORCE NOW

Several Chattanooga Boys on Waiting List Leave for New Orleans.

Until Aug. 8, the local naval recruiting office enlisted men for the naval reserves. On that date notification was received from headquarters to take no more applicants. Before this, however, several hundred young men, principally from Chattanooga, and surrounding territory had been accepted and sent home awaiting orders. It was only recently that these young men commenced receiving notification to report for duty.

For the past month 100 men have been sent from Tennessee weekly, several of them always coming from this city. These men are usually sent to New Orleans, but two or three bunched have been sent to San Diego, Cal.

The last quota of men to leave for New Orleans via Nashville, contained the following names: C. L. Rudd, John W. Garber, J. S. Dugger, G. M. Green, H. G. Smith, R. A. Pitts, W. W. Williams, J. K. Smith, L. R. Daniel, T. O. Vining, S. M. Peace, G. H. Dixon and A. B. Miller.

The next quota is expected to leave next Monday.

ROTARY PAST PRESIDENT TALKS TO WAR CLUB

Allen D. Albert Draws Comparisons Between Now and 1898.

Allen D. Albert, past president of the Rotary Club of the World, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Rotary club, which was held in the main dining room of the Hotel Patten on Wednesday. The fact that thirty-two members will act as reserve registrants on Thursday made it necessary that the meeting of the club be held one day in advance of the regular day.

Mr. Albert, who has been a frequent visitor, made a most interesting talk, wherein he spoke of the elements of physical fitness of the men of the army. As a war correspondent during the Spanish-American war and also a sociologist, he saw the conditions existing during 1898, and has been enabled through his present connections to form comparisons, wherein he brought out facts describing the wonderful effectiveness of the American army resulting through a better understanding of what is required to make the men more effective.

Mr. Albert said that the negroes have the most complete organization in the nation. The matter was put squarely before the colored people and they were told that the money was needed for men in camp and they have responded.

Third: That the existing state division district and county organizations in Tennessee be supplemented on the following basis: Three representatives of each of the seven organizations to be added to the state committee and one representative of each of the seven organizations to be added to the division district and county committees as far as practical.

Fourth: That the names be furnished by the seven organizations to the respective chairmen, state division district and county, before Sept. 25.

The Wednesday morning session of the United War Work conference was opened by a discussion of the work of the students' division of the campaign, which was presented by R. H. King, director of the southeastern division of the students' work. Mr. King emphasized the part that the students of the nation are to take in the campaign.

W. L. Chandler, of Atlanta, outlined the part that the boys are going to take. He said that it was the original purpose of the organization to have boys organized for the war fund of the Y. M. C. A. and to call the division the "Earn and Give Division" or the "Red Triangle Boys". However, since the movement embraces the seven organizations the plans have been changed and the organization is to be called "The Victory Boys". The slogan will be "A million boys behind a million fighters." It is the purpose to have each of the boys earn at least $5 to contribute to the fund.

Arch Trawick told of the importance of the colored work in the campaign. The plan is to have all the negroes in the nation organized for the campaign.

Mr. Trawick said that the negroes have the most complete organization in the nation. The matter was put squarely before the colored people and they were told that the money was needed for men in camp and they have responded.
